

Baschira is Davide Cristiani's brainchild. The artist, originally from Bologna, has lived in Amsterdam for years.

He talks about the ones with no voice, victims of abuse and social injustice in the role of Prospero Baschieri (Baschira), a brigand who lived in the early nineteenth century.

In the autumn of 2019 Baschira worked to the mixing of the seven songs part of his first album "Zdasdat".

In January 2020, the songs are mastered by sound engineer and producer Pietro Rossi at RedStone Productions in Amsterdam. In March 2020 his first single "Il Biondo" is released, which will be followed by "A Capo" on July 15th. Both singles are part of the album "Zdasdat", which in Bolognese dialect means "Wake up".

The songs belong to the folk, gypsy jazz, acoustic, popular genre.
